

Ike Hints U.S. Arms to Keep Peace in Mid-East

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower declared today that he will do everything within his constitutional powers to prevent an outbreak of hostilities in the Middle East. He did not elaborate, but some observers believed that he thus left the way open for strong action, apparently including military force if necessary.

Mr. Eisenhower also told his news conference there is always a faint hope that his correspondence with Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin may develop something of peace value. This possibility exists, the President said, as long as his exchanges with Bulganin are what he described as non-bitter.

The President noted that U. S., British and French diplomats will meet at the State Department late today to determine what measures can be taken in the Middle East either inside or outside the United Nations.

Mr. Eisenhower then said that everything he could do constitutionally to prevent an outbreak of hostilities in the Middle East would be done.

There have been unconfirmed reports that the administration might ask Congress for standby authority to use force in the Middle East Arab-Israeli crisis.

Administration officials said earlier that the U. S., British and French diplomats meeting today will consider quick use of U. N. machinery and possible military and economic sanctions to counter any large scale hostilities in the Arab-Israeli dispute.

Meantime, other administration officials said the U. S. wants quick use made of U. N. machinery if war breaks out in the Middle East.

EARLY REDISTRICTING IMPOSSIBLE

City Council to Hear Sign Case Tonight

Business Delayed By Bond Issue Also Scheduled

City council will meet tonight for their regular second Wednesday night of the month meeting, and the last regular meeting before the special election February 14.

They are expected, since the bond issues are static and wait only for public approval or denial, to discuss business which in many cases has been temporarily set aside so more time could be spent in study of the public's wishes for the bond issue.

Two hearings have been scheduled. Willard McKinney, whose Market sign at right angles to Palm Canyon Drive near Sunny Dunes Road is termed illegal according to sign regulations, will have an opportunity to reopen his case before council, who may in turn refer the matter to the variance board.

A. M. LEIBLING, owner of the property at Indian Avenue and Tahquitz Drive, opposite the Agua Caliente bathhouse, has informed council he wishes to address them concerning that parcel. Council is momentarily waiting for the land to be cleared of debris and residue from Braemar Estates construction adjacent to it.

The Clyde Beatty circus has asked for permission to use the airport March 19, and council will discuss granting that.

A letter from the office of Governor Knight will be read, informing council that in their action favoring Ted Smith, Rancho Mirage realtor, for the County Board of Supervisor's position created by the death of Homer Varner, they were too late. Knight said he had already appointed George Berkeley when he received the resolution.

THE TRAM PROPOSAL which council would like to have changed from tram to trolley to avoid confusion with the Tramway will be discussed. E. A. Aldridge's public transportation idea has been legally titled Palm Springs Surrey Incorporated. A problem of licensing has arisen since engineering delays has kept Aldridge from ordering his surreys built.

His license was to have begun before this time, but it will instead be extended to cover April, 1956 to March 1957, with the stipulation he start business not later than May 1.

The State Employment Retirement System survey of city employees will begin tomorrow if council tonight approves the expenditure of $350.

Ike Pledges His Verdict by Month's End; Lauds Warren

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower told a news conference today that he thought he would be able to announce his decision on a second term by the end of this month.

The President spoke slowly and with what appeared to be deep sincerity as he said he thought he would trust his own feelings more than a decision by his doctors.

Mr. Eisenhower was asked about the possible availability of Chief Justice Earl Warren as a Republican presidential candidate. He said there were many ways Mr. Warren could be a candidate and the Chief Justice would encounter no opposition from Mr. Eisenhower.

MR. EISENHOWER said, however, that he did not think it would be appropriate for him in case he decides not to run again, to ask any other Republican to make the race.

To do so, the President said, would imply that he could win the election for another man.

He said he respects and admires Mr. Warren deeply.

Other highlights:

GAS BILL: He has not decided whether he will sign the controversial natural gas bill which the Senate passed yesterday. In studying the bill he will weigh two opposing considerations, the desirability of preserving state rights to regulate natural resources, and the need to protect what he called captive gas consumers against unreasonable price increases.

CONTRIBUTIONS: He feels the whole question of campaign contributions by organizations and pressure groups needs very earnest study. He is always concerned whether some of these contributions are offered for disinterested motives or by someone trying to get something.

CREDIT CONTROLS: He agrees with Secretary of Treasury George M. Humphrey that government controls on credit are not needed in the present economic situation.

POSTAL: He hopes that good sense will prevail and that Congress this year will finally approve his twice-rejected plea for higher postal rates.

65,000 Hike Asked for Immigrants

Congress Gets Proposal to Liberalize Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower urged Congress today to boost U. S. immigration quotas by about 65,000 persons a year as part of a program to liberalize the controversial McCarran-Walter immigration law.

He also called for legislation to prevent "depraved criminals" from "abusing" the right of appeal to the courts after they have been ordered deported from this country.

IN A 500-WORD special message to the House and Senate, Mr. Eisenhower said the additional immigration quotas which he proposed should be "distributed among countries in proportion to their actual immigration to this country" since 1945. The effect would be to give a break to countries like Italy and Greece, which have long waiting lists of would-be immigrants to America.

Present ceiling on immigration is 154,657 persons a year. Mr. Eisenhower noted that this was "derived from a formula based upon the 1920 population." He said the country's "economic growth" since that time warrants increasing the ceiling to 200,000.

DESPITE THE President's plea, chances for congressional approval of the program this year are believed to be slim. Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.), co-author of the act and chairman of the House committee that handles immigration bills, has already announced his opposition to any extensive revisions.

Ike Not Consulted in Minnesota

WASHINGTON (AP) — Minnesota Republican leaders entered President Eisenhower in their presidential primary without asking for assurances that he would go along. Sen. Edward J. Thye (R-Minn.) said today.

But on the basis of the Minnesota primary law, an argument can be made that no negative answer to the second term question is likely to come from Mr. Eisenhower before Feb. 25. By so doing, he would pull the rug from under his friends and the state GOP organization in Minnesota.

Mr. Eisenhower was entered in the New Hampshire primary last month. He responded by saying he would not object but that his action should not be interpreted to mean that he had decided to run again.

Nitro Blast Rocks Suburb of Glasgow

BISHOPTON, Scotland (AP) — A violent explosion wrecked a government nitroglycerin plant in this Glasgow suburb today, killing a workman and rocking the countryside.

The blast wrecked the nitroglycerin section of the Royal Ordnance Factory, which makes smokeless powder for the government, shortly after the day shift reported for work.

The shock wave set up by the blast shook buildings, overturned furniture and broke windows in an area extending for five miles through the shipbuilding and industrial districts. Fire officials over a wide area rushed equipment to the scene but found no fire to fight.

Moslem Says Moderates' Faith in France Gone

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP) — A prominent Moslem leader said today moderate Algerian nationalists had lost confidence in France's ability to settle Algeria's future and that Premier Guy Mollet must now negotiate with the rebel leaders themselves.

The statement came from Ben Salah, a member of the "Committee of 61" Algerian legislators. He spread his hands in despair and said his group decided not to try any more when French rioting forced Mollet to drop Resident Minister Gen. Georges Catroux from his cabinet.

The statement meant the moderate Algerians now will seek independence from France and will no longer seek a "new deal" for Algeria as a part of metropolitan France. Mollet set himself firmly against Algerian independence.

Mollet plunged today in his second day of conferences with Algerian leaders in his quest for a solution to the 15-month-old insurrection against France. He was seeing 17 separate groups today at the summer palace where he has remained indoors since Monday's riots.

JayCees, Elks to Play Softball Benefit Sunday

The softball championship of Palm Springs' civic and service clubs will be decided Sunday afternoon, February 19, when the Junior Chamber of Commerce and Elks Lodge play a benefit softball game for Mickey Finn's Boys Ranch.

The JayCees issued a challenge this week to the Elks, and it is believed that acceptance will be automatic.

The game is scheduled at 2 p.m. at the Polo Grounds, and will continue for nine innings or until the teams are exhausted.

Admission price will be a minimum of 50 cents, with all proceeds going to the Mickey Finn's Boys Ranch. The Ranch is a non-profit organization established to provide rehabilitation to the youth of Riverside county as authorized by the Welfare and Probation departments.

Thief Gets $47 from Store Safe; Misses More in Locked Drawers

The wall safe of Kenneth DuBose's Village Five and Dime, 220 North Indian Avenue, was rifled of $47 Monday, but the theft was not discovered until the store opened yesterday.

Police were told the money was taken between 2 and 6 p.m. Monday.

Investigating officer Bob White said the safe was opened by an unidentified person after DuBose took out the weekend bank deposit, closed it, and twisted the dial a few numbers so his assistant could gain entry easily.

White said the $47 was taken from one of several drawers, some of which contained considerable cash, but were locked by individual keys.

State Finance Head to Ask Knight's Backing for FRP

SACRAMENTO (AP) — State Director of Finance John Peirce said today he would recommend to Gov. Goodwin J. Knight that he give "serious consideration" to including in his budget funds to get the Feather River Project started.

Peirce, in his capacity as a member of the state Water Project Authority, joined in voting Tuesday to recommend the Legislature earmark $100,000,000 immediately for state water development, including $26,832,000 for the Feather River Project.

Hearing Set by Board is Past Deadline

Beaumont-Banning Changeover May Take Two Years

Immediate supervisory redistricting has no chance of succeeding as Monday is the deadline for initiating revisions that would go into effect by the June election, and the supervisors have put off a hearing on the matter until March 5.

County planning commission has had the matter under study for some time, and among recommendations which will be submitted by the planners is a proposal to add part of District No. 4, the Banning and Beaumont area, to District No. 3, according to L. C. Lewis, vice chairman.

If this is not acted upon Monday, and supervisors have decided otherwise, redistricting could be held up for at least two years until another election if the supervisor from District 4 resides in the area affected.

CHANGING OVER of part of District 4 to District 3 would lighten the work load of the supervisor of this district, it was pointed out.

Supervisors set the hearing date last Monday, and requested that the county planners submit recommendations at that time.

"My constituents are very, very interested in this subject," commented the Fourth District's new supervisor, George V. Berkey. "I'd like as much information as is available as to what studies have gone on." He asked whether the board had considered holding a hearing on the issue.

"WE HELD a hearing in Coachella Valley," replied Supervisor Jones, "and only six people attended." He blamed failure of the group circulating petitions for election of a board of freeholders to draw up a charter for the county, for the board's failure to act on re-districting. Sufficient petition signatures were not obtained. "I guess they've thrown in the towel," he said.

The Natural Gas Merry-Go-Round

Now that the congressional hassle over the natural gas control issue is finished, it is hard to escape the conclusion that the country was taken for a dizzy buggy ride unnecessarily.

The reason, of course, was the vote-getting allure of the controversy. It was the kind of save-the-people issue some politicians dream about.

The start was the United States Supreme Court's sudden decision — after at least three contrary ones over the years — that the Federal Power Commission should have control over the natural gas producers. FPC didn't want it; neither did the gas producers; neither did the pipeline companies nor the gas utilities. Generally the consumers didn't care because they didn't know enough about it.

There seemed a measure of logic in the change. City utility operations and prices are controlled by state bodies so the consumer won't get price-gouged by legal monopolies. The interstate pipelines that bring the fuel to the utilities from the fields are under FPC. So why not the producers to complete the chain?

Many of the lawmakers leaped in to defeat the bill to reverse the Supreme Court and free the gas producers from FPC control. The 21,000,000 household gas consumers and the 1,677,000 industrial and commercial users were given the impression uncontrolled field gas prices would skyrocket. They hinted at a price roll-back. They even resorted to the absurd argument the producers would price themselves out of business unless "saved" from themselves.

The arguments were quite plausible to the uninformed.

What wasn't stressed was that the field price of gas has little effect on the household consumer. New York City, for example, pay $2.42 per thousand cubic feet. Of that, 8 cents goes to the producer. The rest is distribution cost — now regulated by the FPC or the state. A 10 percent field price cut would save the consumer 8 mills — assuming the distributors didn't meantime ask for a rate increase offsetting their higher costs.

Also the consumers weren't fully informed that the supply hazard would be much greater than the price benefit. In cities nationwide thousands of consumers are waiting to get gas, which is now generally cheaper than coal, thanks to John L. Lewis' wage hikes to coal miners the last few years.

These cities' chances of getting gas would dwindle under the field gas regulation. FPC would have no power over gas sold within the state. Were gas consumers given a choice of selling at controlled rates interstate or uncontrolled price intrastate, they obviously would choose the latter. Thus in the two years the bill has been under debate, hundreds of industrial firms have moved to gas producing states to be sure of getting fuel, taking thousands of payrolls and jobs with them.

With each such movement, the opportunity for north and eastern households to get new gas supplies has diminished.

As for the "protection" argument, if and when gas prices get too high, consumers will shift back to coal and fuel oil. That is the inexorable law of supply and demand. Moreover, with gas production price-controlled why not also coal, oil, gasoline, petroleum-derived chemicals and medicines, wheat, corn — in fact all products of the ground? Obviously that is the way to a regimented economy.

Is that what we want? Or do we want a competitive economy, where an overpriced product is soon squeezed out by competitors?

The misguided application to gas, as a field commodity, of the well-established principle of franchised utility services like gas and electricity, would likely inflict on consumers an effect just the opposite of that intended — shortage rather than cheaper and better supplies.

Government control of free-type enterprise is itself an uncontrollable snowball, not to be thoughtlessly risked in peacetime on dubious thrift promises or fears of gouging.

Those British Salesmen

Prime Minister Anthony Eden headed back to Britain after what presumably was a satisfyingly successful meeting with President Eisenhower. No hot clashes of policy met the public eye, and a harmonious though un-new declaration was issued at the close. Eden, the political protege of sagacious old Winston Churchill, is rapidly showing the aptitude of his mentor as an international diplomacy salesman. Thus it may be several weeks, as usual, before we find out what we have bought.

When former President Truman was in New York State last month, he put in a plug for his favorite son, Gov. Averell Harriman. If he was from New York, the man from Independence, Mo., said, he would be for Harriman for President.

But when he visited Illinois, a short time later, he failed to give the same kind of a pat on the back to Adlai Stevenson. Yet, until a few weeks ago, the former President was believed to be one of Stevenson's firmest allies.

Why did the romance cool, the experts have been asking. The latest rumors from the political hot-stove league may shed a little light on that question. The grapevine reports that the strategists in the Stevenson camp are thinking of putting together a Stevenson-Kefauver ticket. If the Tennessee Senator consents to be Stevenson's running mate, that would end the danger that he would be pitted

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

The president of the firm was an arrogant and blustering self-made man and most of the kids who had answered the ad for a new office boy were so frightened by his mere appearance that they were counted out before the first bell. Young Raymond, however, was no one to quail at anything, dead or alive. When the big boss harumphed,

"What I want around me is a boy who can use his own eyes and doesn't have to have every move explained by me." So Raymond said promptly. "Give me three bucks and I'll run across the street and buy you a clean shirt."

Did he get the job? Heck, no! The outraged president booted him out of the office.

A young blonde who spent hours every day before a mirror practicing mannerisms of Marilyn Monroe mournfully reported to a school chum, "Every time I pass the boys in front of the drugstore you should just hear the loud whistle—but darn it, the boys never whistle back!"

This week we give honor
To every Boy Scout —
Give to the Chest, too
Or he'll be without.

This is National Boy Scout Week and one way to show appreciation of the great work they are doing, is to chunk in a bit for their support.

The Community Chest campaign is about wrapped up for this year but I'm sure they still will be glad to accept any contributions. The local Boy Scout movement is one of the agencies benefited by your Chest contribution. And this week would be a good time to act.

NEVER WAS a Boy Scout myself. Guess they weren't going so strong when I was eligible. But have had much to do with Scouting indirectly.

Having had two sons, they both were members. And went to the meetings and the summer camps. It was during the latter period when I became well acquainted with Scouting. Always visited the camps to be sure the boys were all right.

Ran along the shores of the lake clucking to them to be careful and not fall into the cold water.

They didn't. I did.

A BLUE RIBBON coroner's jury studied evidence in the case of the train wreck of two weeks ago in which 30 persons lost their lives. They ruled the wreck was accidental and blamed no one.

The case aroused my curiosity. Big headlines heralded the crash. Big headlines also blazed forth every time there is a train wreck or airplane wreck. People talk about the tragedies in hushed voices.

Thirty died in the train wreck. A recent air crash killed 46.

But every day more than 100 people lose their lives on the highways — hundreds more are maimed for life. The National Safety Council recently reported that in 1955, 38,500 persons were killed in automobile wrecks. The story of that report received no big headlines nor did a blue ribbon jury look into it.

That 30 persons were killed is tragic news—but it received much more comment than did the report that 38,500 were killed on the highways.

Perhaps a jury should investigate that toll and find the answer.

THE PARKING situation here really must be tough.

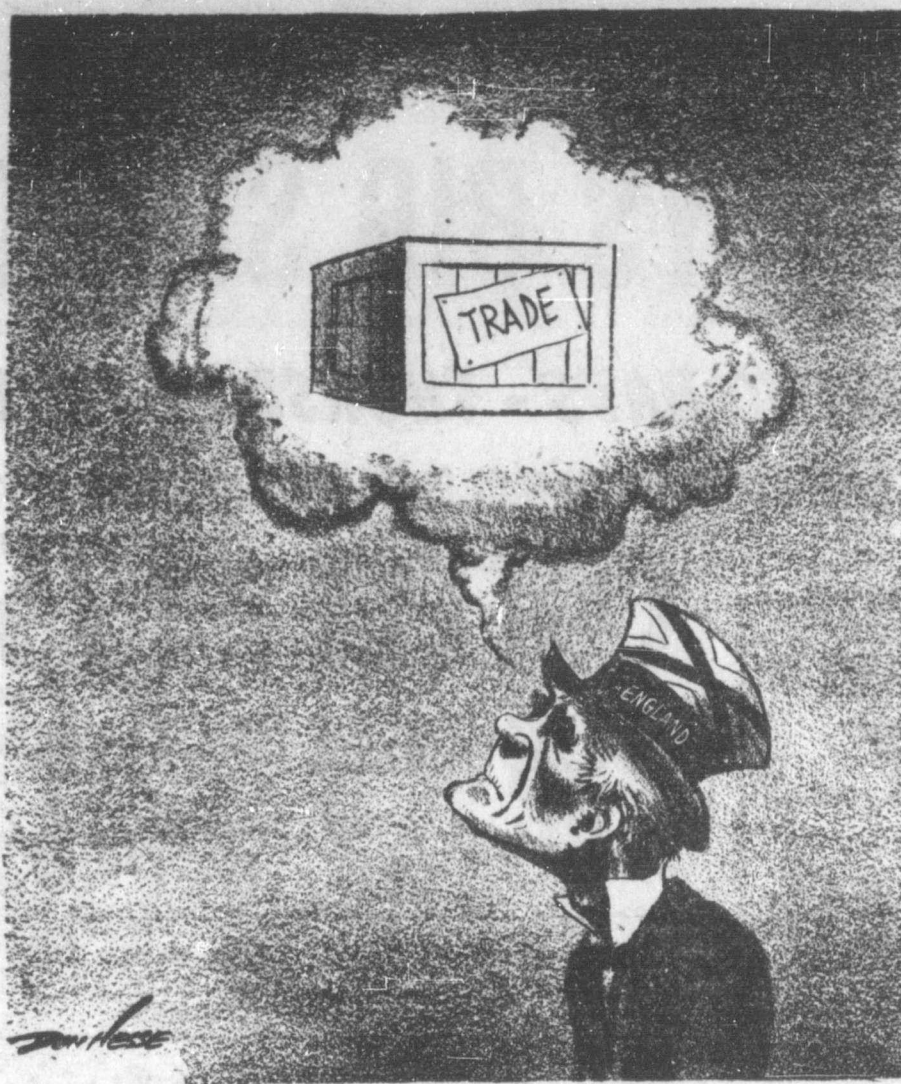

Joe Butler, Safeway manager, dropped into a store the other day and when a clerk came up to wait on him said:

"Oh, I really don't want anything. Hadn't intended to come in here. But I saw a parking space on the Drive and thought it was so unusual that I chunked in a pair of pennies and parked."

The Greenup (Ky.) News has this observation: "The person who associates with younger people and joins in their activities will never grow old," says a psychologist. Of course he won't. He won't live that long."

And the Wall Street Journal tells of the tardy secretary who said: "I'm not really late, boss. I just took my coffee break before I came in."

FRANCE

For readers interested in France the Branch Library offers three outstanding books that cover various aspects of this subject: TRUMPETS FROM MONT-PARNASSE by Robert Gibbings; THE GRAND MADAMEISSELLE by Francis Steegmuller; and NOTRE DAME OF PARIS by Allan Temko.

These three volumes cover French history from the time when the Ile de France was a salt lake to the present when an artist may have twelve young American girls as models, all at one time. This fun event is, of course, retold in Robert Gibbings' delightful travel book, TRUMPETS FROM MONT-PARNASSE, which cannot fail to enchant the eye as well as the heart of the reader.

Gibbings is an accomplished artist and his book has a fine format. It is beautifully illustrated with color plates and wood engravings by the author. The text is full of the eternal magic of France, its legends and gaiety and full stock of fetching Frenchmen.

The pace is leisurely and through the absorbed and alert eye of the author, the reader travels through the countryside and even south to Venice and Naples, culling bits of history, art and beauty all along the way.

In its jaunty way, this book is a good introduction to the more distant past which is vividly brought to life in the entrancing and vivid life of Anne Marie Louise d'Orleans, Duchesse de Montpensier: THE GRAND MADAMEISSELLE.

Laid in the years from 1627 to 1693, this biography encompasses the reign of Louis XIV and teems with famous historical names: Cardinal Mazarin, Madame de Montespan, Madame de Sevigne, Cornelle, Louise de la Valliere, Anne of Austria, Richelieu and many others. And surrounded by the court of France under an absolute monarch is the exciting and courageous life of France, Mademoiselle. Although she had many suitors—and at the time the King of France had plans to marry her to various men for political reasons—the wealthy and aristocratic Anne Marie was never wed.

At the age of forty came the great love of her life for the Comte de Lauzun, a love that was destined to fail in mutual bitterness for all its grand beginnings. Francis Steegmuller has a thorough knowledge of the history of France and the intrigues and drama of the court of Louis XIV.

By far the best of the three books is Allan Temko's biography of a cathedral: NOTRE DAME OF PARIS. Through every word throbs the fascination of the Middle Ages and Temko recreates the age, making it come to life in a tempestuous and compelling way. His people are flesh and blood realities and towering above them all, destined to outstrip them in life and outlast them through the ages, is the greatest single survivor of medieval art and craftsmanship, the Cathedral of Notre Dame.

NOTRE DAME OF PARIS has color and pageantry, action and eloquence, all thoroughly grounded in a careful scholarship which is never obscured, but rather enhanced, by the wealth of detail, artistic, historical, biographical, religious and architectural that characterizes the book.

Temko traces the history of the cathedral from the time when it served as a rustic, pagan altar, through the various shrines to St. Stephen (the first divine guardian of Paris) on the same site, to the time when Maurice de Sully built his magnificent offering to the Virgin as a gift of gratitude for his own elevation in the world.

Temko's scholarship, as mentioned before, never intrudes itself on the reader; but it is certainly a gratifying experience to find a book so well indexed, in addition to containing the necessary genealogical and chronological tables and a comprehensive bibliography of supplementary reading. All of these items are carefully segregated at the end of the book for ready reference, while a profusion of illustrations, both photographic and architectural, enlighten and explain the marvelously written text.

Pia to Visit Mother

HOLLYWOOD—Dr. Peter Lindstrom is sending his daughter Pia to Paris to spend the summer with her mother as a 17th-year birthday present for the doll. Pia's mother, as though you didn't know, is Ingrid Bergman. Constance Bennett is planning a tour in "Readings from John Steinbeck" . . . Universal paid $50,000 for an old, old novel by William Faulkner called "Pylon." Big climactic scene: a barnstorming plane goes berserk while the pilot makes love to a beautiful babe. Pilot, according to present plans: Rock Hudson. Babe: Susan Hayward.

There's a new gimmick in the annual Academy Award sweepstakes. As you've probably heard, most stars have little time to see any but their own movies. So some producers are showing the contending films to actor members of the Academy right in their own homes. . . . Don't hold your breath waiting for Joan Benny and Buddy Rulph to tie the knot. Joan isn't about to plunge into this one. . . . Errol Flynn sold his hotel in Jamaica. Flynn appears to be liquidating his holdings in an attempt to square up his debts. . . .

Every year I look forward to having fun at Redbook Magazine's annual Hollywood romp and every year it's more fun than the year before. . . . MGM's Dore Schary, accepting his laurels from Redbook publisher, Wade Nichols, called it "the hot-foot award" . . . Something was burning during the dinner. The girl on my right, Celeste Holm, asked, "What's burning?" The girl on my left, Zsa Zsa Gabor, said, "Zanuck!" And if you need an explanation that Zanuck, Schary's rival over at 20th-Fox, was burning because he wasn't getting an award too, maybe I shouldn't have repeated the joke! Rocky Graziano, who's Italian, is being played in "Somebody Up There Likes Me" by Paul Newman, who's Jewish. But Norma Graziano, who's Jewish, is being played by Pier Angeli, who's Italian! . . . Sol Mineo, who was so fine in "Rebel Without a Cause," gets the title role in Frank Woods' new movie, "Lafayette Carter." Marjorie Steele, Huntington Hartford's wife, is testing for the role of Mineo's leading lady.

TV TOPICS

Clark Gable has turned down another grand gesture to appear on TV. He remains a solid hold-out. . . . Just two years Emmys were awarded Donald O'Connor and Eve Arden as the best network performers and canary Roberta Linn and USC's Professor Baxter as the best local performers. Of the four, only Eve profited by the award. Both Donald and Roberta are off the TV screens and Professor Baxter has never been able to bag a sponsor. . . . Jackie Gleason's next album of tunes will be titled "Music to Change Your Mind By."

It's up to CBS to decide if Bing Crosby will emcee the NBC Oscar telecast March 21. Bing's willingness to take on the job on condition that CBS, his only twelve outlet to date, doesn't object to his working with the rival web. . . . Kirk Douglas, who plays a strong but erratic game of tennis, got into the semi-finals in the Palm Springs doubles. "If I win," he warned, "I'm going to take up tennis!"

EARL WILSON:

Just a Quiet Wedding

NEW YORK—Speaking of the secrets on the "I've Got a Secret" TV show—which I don't believe we were just now—panelist Bill Cullen and his new bride, Ann Macomber, have just celebrated a whole month of wedded ecstasy and nobody's so much as thrown rice pudding at them.

I met the bride—a beautiful brunette ex-Los Angeles model—at the Barbary Room. Bill was there, too, of course. He's the nosy type.

"We did it kind of quiet-like because I wanted to tell my ex-wife about it first," said Bill. "Then it was the day before Christmas and there was hardly anybody around. I thought I was going to have to sign the papers myself."

Supreme Court Judge Morris Eder married them, explaining that his marriages always last. He mentioned several celebrities he's married, including Milton Berle, who's been married three times.

Bill and Ann gave him a fishy eye when he mentioned Berle.

"Oh, I married him the last time," said the Judge.

"And I hope it is," retorted Bill.

Except for a mention on the radio, the marriage has been secret. "We haven't even had a honeymoon," Bill told me. "A honeymoon is when two people walk out on each other."

Ann's the daughter of Heinz Roemheld, a composer of "Ruby," and was married once before. Bill, an ex-Pittsburgher who does the "Pulse" radio show plus his own TV show for RCA, said he was sort of glad to let people know about it.

"At first," he said, "I wanted a lot of secrecy about it, but when I got a lot of secrecy, I yelled, 'HEY, DOESN'T ANYBODY CARE?'"

I'M VERY HAPPY to tell you that Bimbo's 365 Club in San Francisco is spending $30,000 to install ultra-modern men's and women's powder rooms which'll be so fancy that the club'll hold a premiere and cocktail party to unveil the rest rooms, perhaps the first in history. You're invited, of course. . . .

At the Central Park Zoo a sign scrawled on a cage says, "Don't stand too close. Feeding yourself to the animals is forbidden" . . . Inventions That Ought to be Invented (via Paul Grossman, Brooklyn): "A stringless violin so a person can practice while the rest of the family watches" . . .

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

The Hal March-Candy Toxton wedding is set for Feb. 17 in Las Vegas. . . . Red Buttons joined a syndicate that's buying Florida real estate. . . . The Gabor traveled over the weekend—Mama to Palm Beach, Eva to London, Magda to Nassau. (Zsa Zsa's resting) . . . Victor Borge celebrated the arrival of the baby by buying drinks for everybody at Gilmore's.

Joey Adams' movie, "Singing in the Dark," premieres in Miami Thursday. Wade Buff, co-composer of "It's Always Tomorrow" (and one of the Dream Weavers) weds a U. of Fla. classmate, Mary Rude, March 3 in Miami.

ROBERT S. ALLEN:

New Report on Russia

WASHINGTON—Russia is rivaling the United States in peaceful nuclear development as well as in weapons production.

One graphic illustration of this is the construction of a 100,000 kilowatt atomic power plant — "and there may be others, possibly even larger."

Also, the nuclear capabilities of the satellites are now being pushed.

These are the blunt conclusions of a world-wide study just completed by staff experts of the Joint Atomic Committee. Sen. Clinton Anderson (D-NM), chairman, initiated the survey last year following dissatisfaction with the Atomic Energy Commission's information on this vital subject.

The as-yet-unpublished report will be the basis of a series of significant hearings, at which members of the Commission and other authorities will be interrogated on what is being done to meet this latest Red nuclear threat.

Three findings particularly stand out in this revealing study:

(1) "Besides its weapons program, the Soviet is building up a full-scale peaceful atomic energy industry rivaling that of the United States in magnitude. It involves power reactors, utilization of waste products, use of radioisotopes, and all the rest."

(2) "Russia has demonstrated a high degree of competence in the field of atomic energy, which, together with its large industrial capacity, enables it to undertake major developments in the peaceful applications of nuclear energy."

(3) "The Soviet is assisting the satellites and China in developing their atomic energy programs. This assistance includes research reactors, particle accelerators, and the training of scientific and technical personnel. Similar assistance is being offered to a number of non-Soviet bloc countries, foremost among them India, Yugoslavia and Egypt."

LOT OF ATOMS—Czechoslovakia, East Germany and Red China have both the materials and scientific manpower for far-reaching nuclear development.

This is strongly stressed in the Joint Committee's voluminous report. It presents a country-by-country analysis of the Soviet bloc's potentialities and what is being done about them.

The study shows clearly that Russia is acting aggressively in this matter.

Following are publishable highlights from the survey:

"Czechoslovakia and East Germany have sufficient raw materials and industrial and scientific manpower capabilities to develop large nuclear programs. . . . Already Czechoslovak scientists are studying in Russia. The first group arrived in Moscow in September 1955. Construction of a reactor in Czechoslovakia should begin within a year. . . . There is no question but that Czechoslovakia is able to support a long-range program for the industrial uses of atomic energy."

Russian Living Conditions to be Told by Visitor

Russian living conditions, at all levels, will be portrayed by a well known Palm Springs resident, prior to a chess exhibition to be given this week at the Polo Grounds.

Mrs. Stevenson's performance is part of Director of City Recreation Howard Haddock's plan to broaden the scope of his department's activities.

The lecture and exhibition will be held at the Little White Clubhouse on the Polo Grounds facing Sunrise Way. The public will be admitted without charge. Those wishing to play with Mrs. Stevenson are requested to bring their boards and chess sets.

The Palm Springs Group are the sponsors, and the arrangements and conduct of the chess exhibitions are in the charge of I. E. Nordstrom and A. P. Judol. The chairman is David Snyder.

By BILL RASHALL

'ere I start this column we must all doff our hats in the direction of the Home Owners-League and Mr. Ben Shearer. Now I want it known right here and now that I admire Ben very much and I hate to use the word—very—. It is superfluous.

All of this, of course, has to do with the Municipal Golf Course. It is my humble opinion that this city needs a municipal golf course.

With all deference to Ben Shearer and his "Home Owners-League" I still believe that Palm Springs is in dire need of a municipal golf course no matter what the cost may be in the future, or particularly when it is in operation.

FOR EXAMPLE, I heard today that a big convention that would have poured dollars into mercantile channels was denied Palm Springs because it did not have a municipal golf course.

Nobody has ever learned the number of members represented behind the name of the Home Owners-League. It is an imposing name. Taken for its literal meaning it would mean the entire city's home owners. But, the other night, Our Editor Oliver Jaynes was present at a meeting of the Home Owners-League and only 35 (presumed) members were present.

There are approximately 3,000 home owners within the city limits of Palm Springs. Where was a good cross section of those home owners when the League went on record as against the municipal golf course?

I LOVE YOU Ben Shearer, but I cannot go along with that deal: I know you know a great deal about the cost of operating a golf course but I have heard men with more money than I believe you have, who have said: "I cannot afford to play golf in Palm Springs. It costs too much." And by "too much" these people mean from $25 to $50 per 18 holes.

On the other hand, I have heard persons come to town complaining that they couldn't GET ON A course no matter what the charge for 18 holes of playing may have been.

Remember, you who vote for these bonds, that it takes two-thirds majority of the votes cast in order to carry a bond issue. Believe me, just a working stiff like you and you and you, that although I do not play golf I know it is one of the most important games in any resort community.

Certainly there are many who believe that a municipal golf course is not necessary but I walk the streets of your town and mine: I listen daily to the opinion of the tourist, winter resident and weekend guest. They want a golf course where it doesn't cost from $25 to $50 upon which to play.

Our industry is tourists. The greatest participating sport game in the world today is golf. Let's not cut our throats economy-wise.

by being "pennywise and pound foolish." Vote solidly for the municipal golf bond and all the other improvements.

THE SWEETEST thing I learned about in a long time was a bit of news about the Richard Vander Veers of Chicago. With one adopted boy already, Dick was passing cigars out around the lobby of El Mirador hotel. He was a proud father of a new baby girl, God Bless them! And here follows the story:

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Vander Veer flew to Chicago with their adopted son Ricky, five and one-half years old, to pick up Janice Kay, three weeks old and weighing seven and one-half pounds. Both of the foster parents are just gaga over the little tyke and madly in love with the fact that they have a sister for Ricky. Now isn't that something! I ask you? Wish I could get a son to match the trouble I'm getting from one daughter only four and one-half years old. Can anybody help me?

By the way, there is a good guy in this town by the name of Bernie Jacobsen, city editor of the Post-Intelligencer, Seattle. He and his wife are guesting at the Oasis hotel.

Peasants Rebel at 'Sacred' Cows

PATALIA, India — Seventeen thousand peasants in this northern India district threatened today to refuse to pay rents unless the state takes measures to protect their farms from a ravaging herd of "sacred" cows.

The cow is a sacred and untouchable animal to India's Hindus. But the herd of 1,000 has been roaming the forests and raiding farm plots for years. A peasant committee was formed to press for immediate state action, including if necessary, wiping out the herd.

5 New Night Classes Set by Adult School

Five new classes in subjects designed to meet the needs and interests of a wide variety of Villagers were announced this week for the Adult Evening School by George Manington, principal. The five courses, to be given at the high school, are mathematics, law for the layman, driver education, sewing and swimming.

Starting Thursday, and intended especially for students who need a refresher in some of the basic processes in mathematics is a course to be offered by William Larson, high school math teacher. This class offers credit for those wishing the high school diploma and will be adjusted to the individual needs and requirements of students. The course will meet from 7 to 10 p. m., Thursdays.

LAW FOR THE LAYMAN is a consumer's course in the basic principles of law as they apply in California. To give the student a foundation in the principles of law which apply in contracts, agency and liability, negotiable instruments, in real and personal property, and wills is the basic concern of this course.

It is to be conducted by Henry V. Cleary, village attorney, a graduate of the University of California at Berkeley and of the Hastings College of Law. It will meet Tuesday evenings from 7 to 10 p. m., commencing February 4. Another course which should have a wide appeal is driver education. This course will be taught by Albert Kemmer, teacher in Palm Springs High school, and by George Bond, supervisor of transportation.

Emphasis in the course will be on understanding the adjustments which individuals must make as they learn to understand how drivers and pedestrians react, how both natural and man-made laws operate with the automobile, and how attitudes of sportsmanship and co-operation can save lives. The class will meet from 7 to 9 p. m. on Wednesdays, starting February 15.

TO MEET REQUESTS of many of the homemakers in Palm Springs will be a new course in sewing. To be taught by Mrs. Dorothy Munty, the course will feature discussion and demonstration with individual work and practice in pattern-making, cutting, sewing and finishing machine and hand-sewn projects of individual selection and interest. The class will meet on Thursdays from 7 to 10 p. m., starting February 16.

Rounding out the list will be a course in beginning, intermediate, and advanced swimming. To be taught by Miss Doris Toney, elementary teacher, the course will follow closely the Red Cross outline. It is designed to increase individual and group water safety. Those interested in this course are urged to call the principal, 2393 so that meeting time can be adjusted to the needs of the majority. It is scheduled to commence in March.

TWA to Use Jet Transports in 1959

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Trans-World Airlines will start using jet transports in its coast-to-coast service in 1959.

Howard Hughes announced yesterday his Hughes Tool Company had purchased eight jet transports costing $4,500,000 each from Boeing Airplane Company for use by TWA, a Hughes subsidiary concern. He said Los Angeles-to-New York flight time for the jets will be slightly more than four hours.

GARRY ROBERTS, who is attending training school at Sheppard Air Force Base.

Garry Roberts Enters School at Sheppard

A/3c Garry N. Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Dolley, 270 V. redre Norte, has entered the United States Air Force Technical Training School at Sheppard Air Force Base, located near Wichita Falls, Texas.

During his specialized training as a student at Sheppard, he will receive intensive training designed to provide him with the thorough knowledge and basic skills which he will be required to possess for his work as a flight refueler.

Upon completion of the course, along with the majority of graduates in his class, he will be assigned to one of the major Air Force Commands for on-the-job experience, or will enter a course of advanced training. He entered the Air Force on Oct. 19, 1955.

St. Anne's Church at Detroit is the second oldest Catholic parish in the United States. It was established two days after Antoine Cadillac landed at Detroit in 1701 and has been maintained continuously since.

Southend Sam, Northend Norman Start Rounds

Village hotel owners and operators are so busy during the height of the season that they don't have time to get out to solicit for the Community Chest.

As a result, the Chest drive in past years has suffered.

About ten days ago, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Tom Anderson, of Rancho Mirage, and Stanley Rosin, members of the Chest's board of directors, thought of a way to overcome the time discrepancy.

As a result, Southend Sam and Northend Norman started this morning to do the soliciting for the hotel owners.

Southend Sam and Northend Norman are pipe and chicken-wire figures, designed and built by the Andersons.

(Southend Sam or Northend Norman) are in a race

To help the City of Palm Springs keep pace.

The people we help are our own.

So insert your check in this envelope.

And a seed is sown.

The clothes were donated by Marty's Sample Shop, and the rest of their adornment, including the mottoes, by Mrs. Anderson.

Southend Sam started this morning at the Co Co Cabana, and Northend Norman's first stop was at El Tram hotel. The owners of the hotels will drop an envelope, inscribed with the name of their hotel, into the solicitors' suitcases, and take them next door.

Then they will phone Community Chest headquarters, 2051, to report the progress of Northend Norman and Southend Sam.

According to Rosin, the donation should be at least $3 for each unit of their establishment.

THE MOTTOES on the solicitors' chests explain their duties amply:

His suitcase will receive your envelope.

And by this act your Community Chest will take hope.

Phone 2051 when this is done.

To Let us know that (Sam or Norman) has passed this one.

Send (Sam or Norman) on his way, for he has much to do today!

Students Asked to Compete for Elks Lodge Scholarships

Palm Springs students who are graduating this year are invited to enter the Elks National Foundation scholarship award contest, and compete for $30,000 in awards.

Applications should be submitted to the local lodge authorities by Wednesday, February 22. In charge here are Dr. C. H. Baldwin, James Dunn and Bill Coffin.

The merit standards to be considered by judges are scholarship, citizenship, personality, leadership, perseverance, resourcefulness, patriotism and financial need. Applications are available at the Palm Springs High School. A statement of not more than 300 words prepared by the student, in his own handwriting, summarizing activities, accomplishments and objective of further education, which the applicant thinks qualifies him for one of the awards, must accompany the form.

Only students of outstanding merit, who show an appreciation of the value of an education, and who are willing to struggle to achieve success, have a chance to win one of these awards, according to the local co-chairmen.

Gerald Heard to be First of Five Lecturers in Series

Gerald Heard, noted author, historian and philosopher, will be the first of five well known speakers to appear in a series of lectures sponsored by the Church of Religious Science, Dr. Irma Glen, pastor, announced this week.

Heard will present the program at 8 p. m., Tuesday, February 14, in the Woman's clubhouse. His topic will be "Psychology and Religion in the World of Tomorrow."

Other appearances scheduled at two week intervals are: February 28, Adela Rogers St. Johns; March 13, Don Blanding, "Joy Is an Inside Job;" March 27, Harold Sherman, "Thoughts Through Space;" April 10, Srimati Gayatri Devi, "The Universality of Religion."

CLOSING THE series on April 24 will be a program by the Bob Mitchell's Choir Boys and Dr. Glen, who is a noted pianist and composer.

Heard is known as one of the greatest scholars and thinkers of our time. Famous in England, his homeland, for his broadcasts on current science, he has also engaged in official psychological research. In 1937, together with Aldous Huxley, he settled in California.

He is the author of over 30 books, the newest being "The Human Venture."

OF HIM, W. Somerset Maugham

GERALD HEARD, noted author, historian, philosopher and lecturer, who will be the first of five speakers to appear here under the sponsorship of the Church of Religious Science.

said: "It is no exaggeration to say of Gerald Heard that he doesn't talk from a desire of distinction, but because his mind is full."

Attendance may be made through a season ticket, or by tickets for individual performances. They may be obtained from the Village Pharmacy, 201 North Palm Canyon Drive, by addressing the church at 1110 Buena Vista Drive, and before and after services at El Paseo Theater on Sunday, and at the Woman's Club on Thursdays.

Drivers Must Adjust to All Types Climate

"It's every driver's responsibility to adjust his driving to the conditions that exist." This warning to motorists was made by Deputy Commissioner Ross R. McDonald, of the California Highway Patrol. "The practice of many motorists who drive in the same manner during inclement weather as when weather is clear and dry, is reflecting a definite increase in death and injury accidents," McDonald said. "Last year 32,000 accidents occurred during adverse weather conditions, and investigations revealed that the greater percentage of these accidents could have been prevented had the drivers made the necessary adjustments of their driving habits for winter driving."

Reduced visibility and slippery roads necessitate reduced speed, while rain, frost, and snow require adequate wipers and defrosters functioning properly. Motorists have to see danger before they can avoid it.

The exercise of due caution, and the acceptance of personal responsibility for avoiding traffic accidents will help counter-balance winter's hazards, he added.

Bids for Lease of School Land to be Considered

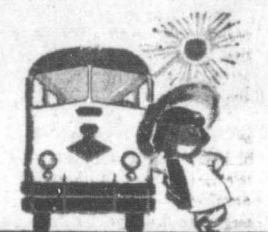

Leasing of nine acres of land at Rancho Mirage by the Palm Springs Unified School District will be under advisement Thursday, when bids will be opened by the board at their regular meeting.

The land, a school site purchased by the district a few years ago, was opened for sealed bid lease on January 19, 1956, with a minimum rental fee of $20 per month. The land is now a site for a 16-foot by 43-foot plywood shed, and it will go with the lease.

Under the terms and conditions of the lease, the rental will be on a month-to-month basis, subject to termination within 30 days; the property and shed will be insured in the name of the district, and the building and grounds will be maintained in a neat and orderly manner and free from rubbish and debris.

The regular meeting of the Board will be held Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at Frances Stevens School.

TODAY'S SPORT PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.

NEW YORK (U)—Baseball seems intent today on making the "Most Valuable Player" award more farcical than ever.

This becomes evident in the proposal of Commissioner Ford Frick that there be a special award to the "Most Valuable Pitcher." And that the hurlers thereby be deleted from MVP consideration.

In other words, the pitchers aren't players.

Now this will get you an argument from, at least, anybody who ever tossed the pitcher's mound. The theory is that pitchers only work every four days. Actually they do more work in a nine-inning stint than most outfielders do in a week.

WORKING ON Frick's theory, maybe there should be a different award for each position. It would make about as much sense.

We could have an award for red-haired second basemen with the most freckles on Sept. 1. All you'd have to do is count 'em, and the winner couldn't be debated.

Shortstops ought to get some reward, too. How's for a trophy to the one with the most spike during the last day of the season?

Third basemen could be trophied or atrophied, for the most chest blisters sustained while covering the hot corner in short-sleeved undershirts. And there certainly ought to be one for the outfielder who eats the most bowls of cold cereal seven days running.

ALL OF WHICH would make about as much sense as awarding a separate trophy to pitchers and excluding them from the most valuable player balloting.

Or as much sense as the MVP trophy the way it currently is balloted.

The system now consists of three ballots from each major league city. It provides for some great injustices.

The year Ted Williams hit .406, Joe DiMaggio won the award with a .357 average. The year DiMaggio hit .346 and made a comeback which carried the faltering Yankees to the pennant—over Boston—Williams won it with a .343 mark.

THE YEAR Jackie Robinson captured the award, one voter left him off his ballot completely. This year Duke Snider was nosed out by Roy Campanella—because one voter left Snider out of his first 10 places completely.

Your most consistent victim has been Robin Roberts, the Phillies' great pitcher. In 1952, Hank Sauer took the award with a .270 average on the basis of 121 runs, 37. Roberts only won 26 games and toiled a league-leading 330 innings.

Anybody who doesn't think that's enough work to merit MVP consideration should have his head examined.

And so should the baseball powers if they try to go through with this fruitcake plan to separate the pitchers from the "players" in MVP consideration. Give the pitchers an award, commissioner, but don't take away their chance at the big one.

Gambee, OSC, Top Scorer in PCC Basketball

LOS ANGELES (U)—Dave Gambee of Oregon State is the Pacific Coast Conference's leading individual scorer while the unbeaten UCLA Bruins pace the loop's teams in pointmaking, statistics showed today.

Gambee has scored 183 points in 10 games for an 18.3 point average. UCLA's Morris Taft is second with 144 points in six games for a 24-point average, tops in the PCC. Other leading scorers are Bruno Boin, Washington, 133; Willie Naulls, UCLA, 129; Max Anderson, Oregon, 129; and Larry Beck, Washington State, 119.

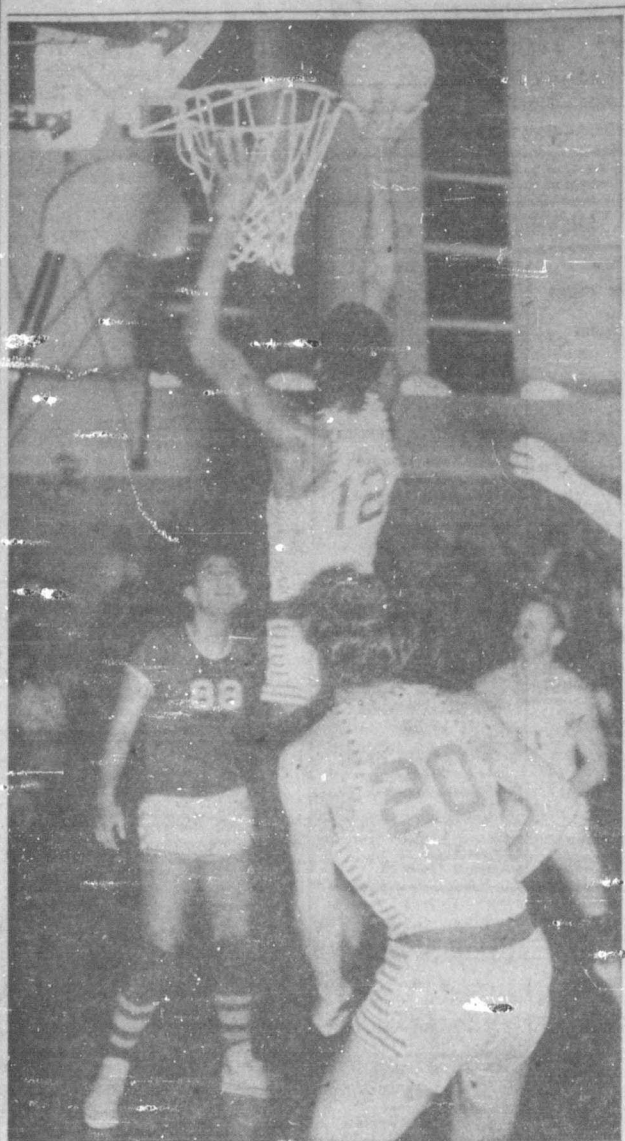

UCLA HAS AVERAGED 82.3 points a game. Southern California is second with a 67.5 point average and Stanford has 66.5. The Bruins also lead in team rebounding with 59.3 per cent, followed by SC, 52.5, and Oregon State, 51.5.

Southern California dominates team defensive statistics. It has allowed opponents 57.1 points a game. Stanford's defensive average is 57.4, followed by Washington's 57.9. SC also has allowed opponents to hit on only 30.5 per cent of their field goal attempts. Washington is second with 31.6 and Stanford 32.4.

IN INDIVIDUAL STATISTICS, Bernie Simpson of California replaced Taft as leader in the field goal accuracy department. Simpson has made good 14 of 28 field goal attempts for a 50 per cent average. Taft has dropped in 57 goals in 116 shots for a 49.1 per cent, trailed by Bob Blake of California, 47.5, and Gary Van Gelders, Stanford, 47.4.

Idaho's Bill Bauscher is the top free-throw shooter, sinking 24 of 29 tries for 82.9 per cent.

MORE TROUBLE FOR WASHINGTON HUSKIES

SEATTLE (U)—The University of Washington's football bubble, rapidly reaching the proportions of a major scandal, was at the breaking point today.

Sitting on the hottest part of the gridiron-griddle was athletic director Harvey Cassill, the man who fired Johnny Cherbeg as head football coach Jan. 21.

The board of regents, itself under scrutiny of a legislative inquiry committee, was to meet informally tonight, to discuss the situation which began to ferment when a majority of the Husky football squad "revolted" against Cherbeg at the end of the 1955 season.

CASSILL'S STATUS was expected to be a major issue before the regents.

Meanwhile, Pacific Coast Conference Commissioner Victor O. Schmidt was due here Friday and he was expected to investigate a "slush fund" which admittedly was used to pay expenses of prospective Washington football players.

One of Schmidt's main duties is policing the recruiting programs if conference schools and to determine when PCC rules have been flouted.

R. C. (Torchy) Torrance, a prominent alumnus, Seattle businessman, concessionaire and one of Washington's main recruiters of athletes, admitted yesterday such a fund existed.

HE SAID IT was used primarily to pay for entertainment, transportation and expenses of prospective Husky athletes.

Cherbeg yesterday told a three-man legislative inquiry committee that one of the main reasons he was fired was "because Torrance was faced with the position of having to give up this so-called fund that he operates."

He accused Torrance of "engineering" the player revolt in which a majority of the squad protested Cherbeg's coaching methods.

Cherbeg said 23 players were involved in the uprising but University Vice President H. P. (Dick) Everest said there were about 35.

Gavilan Defeat Arouses Uproar in Great Britain

By HAROLD M. WILLARD
United Press Sports Writer

LONDON (U)—Outrage boiled up today against a referee's decision that gave young Peter Waterman of Britain a split-decision victory over Cuban Kid Gavilan in a 10-round welterweight bout Tuesday night.

British fans, newspapers and officials led the criticism heaped on the aging head of Ben Green, one of the most respected ring officials in the country.

British boxing czar Jack Solomons, promoter of the fight, said there was "bound to be an inquiry" over the decision. Informed sources said it was possible the British Boxing Board of Control would reverse Green's decision.

Solomons, referees of preliminary bouts, experienced boxing reporters, and the 10,000 Haringey Arena fans all believed former world champion Gavilan had won easily with a bewildering variety of punches and aggressive tactics that obviously befuddled Waterman—whose experience gained in 30 undefeated fights was no match for the 130-bout galle of Gavilan.

Gavilan received a thundering ovation when he bounced around the ring. At first he thought he had won. So did everyone else.

The referee's card has not been made public yet. But a United Press survey of cards kept by ringside reporters showed a unanimous decision for Gavilan. The United Press card gave Gavilan seven rounds and Waterman three.

Jordan Scores 47 Points to Break Own Record and Establish New Loop Mark

By DAVID FISHER

Redman Charles Jordan broke the Riverside County League individual scoring mark last night for the second time in ten days, bucketing 47 points to lead the Palm Springs Indians to a 67-47 victory over the visiting Banning Broncos. It was the first place Indians' ninth straight win and kept alive their distinction of never being defeated on their home court this season.

Jordan, while matching the output of the entire Banning five, found time to grab 37 rebounds and play an outstanding defensive game. The 47-point effort left the local's lanky center firmly in possession of the league high scoring honors with a season total of 269.

THE INDIANS looked very unimpressive in the opening moments of the contest when sloppy ball handling and careless passing gave the Broncos a 3-2 lead. A basket by Jordan quickly erased the one point margin and from then on it was easy sailing for Ralph Watt's warriors. Palm Springs continued to move, rolling up a 12-5 first period edge.

The second quarter was all Jordan, as the pivot man poured in 17 markers to give the Braves a commanding 35-18 half time lead.

AFTER THE INTERMISSION the Indians ball hawking guard, Vic Reyes, accounted for three buckets on long set shots to stretch the Palm Springs edge to 50-24. Before the third period was completed Jordan had managed to pick up 13 more and give him 38, just five short of his own R. C. L. record of 43.

It was an exhausted but game Charles Jordan that came out for the start of the last period. Knowing that six more points would give him a new league mark, the Indians' big gun gave it everything he had. However, his shots were missing their mark and he was finding it difficult to drag himself up and down the court. Jordan finally topped the old mark from the free throw with less than two minutes left in the tilt. Before the final buzzer sounded Jordan put in three more points to give himself a total of 47 and a new record.

AGAIN A GREAT DEAL of credit for the new mark must go to Reyes and Mickey Pellum who did a tremendous job of feeding Jordan while the Palm Springs marksmen was on his second 40 point scoring binge of the season.

The local B team, though playing without two regulars, Don Burke and Eddie Tarr, had too much speed for the Banning squad, as they raced to a 44-26 victory.

Sharing the high scoring honors for the papooses were Gary Waters and Curtis Roberts, both with 14. The most exciting part of the entire game seemed to be in the last period when Palm Springs had the game sewed up. The substitutes then paraded onto the floor to give a wild demonstration of how basketball shouldn't be played.

ON FRIDAY NIGHT the Indian Varsity and B teams will both have tough games, running up against the rugged Elsinore Tigers in the matchbox Elsinore gym. A win that game will practically assure Palm Springs of at least a tie for the prized first place position in the Riverside County League.

Aragon Wins After Getting Up from Floor

HOLLYWOOD (U)—Art Aragon, Southern California's top boxing attraction, kept intact his record of never losing a fight at Legion Stadium but he had to get up from the floor to do it.

Aragon, 146, Los Angeles, knocked out Ramon Tiscareno, 148, in 2:38 of the second round Tuesday night in the stadium's scheduled 10-round main event after the Juarez (Mex.) fighter had floored him for an eight-count in the same round. It was Aragon's 16th fight at Legion Stadium since 1949 without a loss.

A sellout crowd of about 6,000 fans watched Tiscareno, a 3-1 underdog, bid for a surprise, quick upset. Tiscareno decked Aragon with a right cross to the chin.

Aragon, 28-year-old veteran, opened up with a series of lefts and rights as soon as he was on his feet. Tiscareno went down for a one-count. When Tiscareno got up, Aragon swarmed over him and used a left hook to the chin for the kayo.

Promoter Jackie Leonard of Legion Stadium announced that he would try to line up an Aragon fight for mid-March with Chico Vejar.

MORRISON ON GOLF

LEARN MEANING OF GOLF TERMS

By ALEX J. MORRISON
Author of "A New Way to Better Golf," Teacher of Champions

WHENEVER I manage to build up a mite of optimism about having pupils follow my instructions it seems that I experience the most rude awakenings.

Recently I was working with a pupil who is familiar with almost every golf term or phrase used with analysis or instruction. I was about to put him into the most efficient hip action when he blurted: "Won't that keep my hips from turning away from the ball the way they are supposed to?"

This just about did it for me. It amounted to no more than a common occurrence with many pupils and instructors, but this particular pupil is far from the ordinary. His remark proved that he didn't know the real meaning of the suggestion about "getting the left hip out of the way in the downswing," also it demonstrated little or no attention to my instructions.

IN THE LONGER swings the proper hip action finds them shifting, then turning as they move toward the player's right, and toward his left. This means that for some distance, however slight, the hips move in a line parallel to the line of play.

Since there is every tendency to slight or omit this parallel movement something must be done to make sure of it. So I instructed my pupil: "In your downswing try to make your left hip move aggressively toward your shot target."

In all but rare cases the player twists his hips to his left in the downswing before his club strikes the ball. This has to be discouraged rather than encouraged.

Thies Signed by Hollywood Stars

HOLLYWOOD (U)—Pitcher Vernon (Jack) Thies, who compiled a 3-9 won-lost record with the Pittsburgh Pirates in 1954 and an 8-12 mark with Columbus of the International League last season, has been purchased by the Hollywood Stars of the Pacific Coast League. Thies was purchased from New Orleans, the club he was transferred to recently. The Pelicans got pitcher Harry Fisher in return plus an undisclosed amount of cash.

Promising young pro Billy Casper shows very good form as his iron club comes into the ball. Note that his left hip has not turned away from the line as much as is often advocated. Many golf terms are misleading.

The fault is part of body separating from arms and hands. Obviously, a twisting away before impact greatly lessens the force and accuracy of striking the ball. As action pictures show, it is one of the main differences between the average and top players. Turning without shifting will wreck any swing.

Longdon Nears Riding Record with His 4670th

ARCADIA — Johnny Longdon, America's leading jockey in number of victories, needs only 201 more to beat the world mark of 4,870 set by the retired Sir Gordon Richards of England. Longdon, English-born, booted home No. 4,670 of his career Tuesday, in the first race at Santa Anita.

A wide-open battle was expected today in the $15,000 Santa Susana Handicap for three-year-old fillies at Santa Anita Park. The stakes drew a field of 18 entries.

Post time favorites were expected to be Neva T., Tipper and Scansion. The Santa Susana is a seven-furlong sprint.

In Tuesday's feature race, Cyclotron made his first start of the meeting a winning one as Eddie Arcaro whipped him to a neck victory in the $7,500 Knights of the Round Table Purse.

Cyclotron caught the pace-setter, Don McCoy, just at the wire. Full Time was third. Cyclotron raced the six furlongs in 1:10 3/5 and paid $6.90.

"EXCITING MOVIE. AS SEEN BY MAN SITTING BEHIND GORILLA"

The Gorilla pictured above is "Bombo" who played half-back on the Schwine-Kitzenger Institute Football Team, the "Cyclotrons". Bombo had a good season in '55. He was only disqualified twice. Once for kick kicking the referee into the stands and once when he worked out a novel version of the "hidden ball play" (he ate it). But now that the season's over he's been spending his Saturday afternoons at the movies with Mrs. Schwine. She says he's a nuisance because he's always throwing banana skins in the aisles and letting out blood curdling screams during the love scenes. And there's always a ruckus when they buy tickets and the manager tries to insist that half-price doesn't include Gorillas under 12.

HOME WITH A VIEW

It's in Little Tuscany, of course. The sliding glass doors from the master bedroom lead to a private patio . . . the living room glass doors lead to another to take full advantage of the view. A flagstone fireplace spills out into the L shaped living room and dining area. This two bedroom, two bath home is designer built. There are walled, landscaped gardens just beyond the glass walls of the baths . . . and marble (well, maybe not real marble) shower walls and the same "marble" is used for the free form pullman sink. This is a Little Tuscany home you can afford.
 $32,500 UNFURNISHED

Income Property

Four Unit Income property, on a corner. The lot is big enough to expand the building. Each apartment has a private patio, the shrubbery and landscaping are complete, even has a sprinkler system. The units are all rented — The price is $42,500, furnished

Harry gave up on his 29-year-old station wagon after it was involved in an accident the night of December 27. "I wore it out," was his comment, "outlived it while prowling the desert gathering yarns and folklore." And, he added, "I hope to outlive the no-year-old Jeep." The station wagon is going to be retired to a life of ease at Old Fort Oliver at Thousand Palms, coming to life only for parades and exhibits. (Desert Sun Photo)

Senate Group Opens Probe of Soviet Activities in U.S.

Seeks Data on Divisive Techniques Of Reds; May Tighten Control Act

By UNITED PRESS
The Senate Internal Security Subcommittee today opened a broad investigation into Soviet activities in the United States. Subcommittee Chairman James O. Eastland (D-Miss.) said the inquiry's results may lead to changes in the 1950 Communist Control Act.

He said the subcommittee wants to "determine to what extent Soviet power operates through the Communist Party here." He said the subcommittee also wants to learn the extent other groups may "have been divided to effectuate" the purposes of Russia.

IMMIGRATION: President Eisenhower sent to Congress a new plea to "liberalize" the Walter-McCarran Immigration Law.

NATURAL GAS: The blue-ribbon special committee investigating an alleged attempt to buy a Senate vote on the natural gas bill planned to begin hearings Friday.

FLOODS: The House approved a three million dollar appropriation for Northeast flood projects. The House overruled its appropriations committee in approving the appropriation. It was sent to the Senate where Northeast senators pledged to make a strong stand.

APPROPRIATION: The House passed and sent to the Senate a $3,618,699,000 money bill — first regular money bill of the session. The funds are for running the Post Office and Treasury departments and the U. S. Tax Court during fiscal 1957. More than 31 million dollars was shaved from the President's original request.

Plains Get Rain as East and West Coasts Clear Up

By UNITED PRESS

The East and West Coast generally had fair weather today, but in the South and Central plains areas rain fell and more than four inches of new snow was on the ground in Wyoming.

Two 13,000-pound snowplows, meanwhile, were headed from California by air to Clovis, N. M., where the Air Force Base still is snowbound from storms that battered the Southwest in the past week.

A storm center in Mexico and a northward surge of warm, moist air from the Gulf of Mexico combined to produce rain and thunderstorms over the South and Central plains and western Missouri. Some snow fell over the central Rockies, extending eastward to western Nebraska and South Dakota.

But the northern Great Lakes region was warm, although cloudy and the lower Great Lakes area had fair skies.

More than four inches of new snow fell at Lander, Wyo., Rock Springs, Wyo., reported a three-inch fall in six hours and Ely, Nev., had an inch.

Gardner Quizzed in 'Conflict of Interest' Case

WASHINGTON — The Air Force's research chief, reported to have submitted his resignation in a controversy over guided missiles, has been questioned in a "possible conflict of interest" case.

It was learned that Trevor Gardner, Assistant Air Force Secretary, was questioned by staff employees of the Senate investigating subcommittee in what was described only as a "preliminary inquiry." The nature of the case was not disclosed.

Gardner moved into the headlines Tuesday when military sources reported he had submitted his resignation as Air Force research chief on the ground that the Defense Department was not speeding work on guided missiles rapidly enough.

10-to-1 Offered That None of 3 Top Democrats Will Win

Split Vote Foreseen as Knocking Off Stevenson, Kefauver and Harriman

WASHINGTON — A credible witness holding high office in the Eisenhower administration reports that he was offered a bet of 10-to-1 that none of the three most widely discussed Democrats would be nominated for President this year.

The three are Adlai E. Stevenson, Sen. Estes Kefauver and Gov. Averell Harriman. He took the bet, putting up one dollar to collect $10 if all three strike out.

THE OTHER bettor argued it this way: Kefauver is likely to wound Stevenson's chances fatally in one or more of the presidential primary contests in which they will oppose each other. They will meet in New Hampshire March 13, Minnesota March 20, Florida May 8 and California June 5.

Having disposed of Stevenson in the primaries, the bettor continued, Kefauver would be knocked off, in turn, by the combined opposition of the Stevenson element, southern conservatives and the old guard. The Democratic old guard is mostly Harry S. Truman, Independence, Mo.

THE FORM chart at that point suggests that New York's Gov. Harriman, with Carmine De Sapio up, would gallop around the convention track for an easy win. That is the strategy of the Harriman organization as charted by De Sapio, the new look boss of modern Tammany Hall.

But the bettor who put up $10-to-1 against any of the three front runners making it this year is convinced that Harriman also will be cut down in the nominating convention. He argues the Tammany tag will be a serious disadvantage, despite evidence that De Sapio is a reform boss.

Carnation corner

In my book, the biggest food value in town is Carnation Cottage Cheese. This fresh, tangy cheese food supplies more health-giving protein—ounce for ounce—than even choice cuts of meat. And, it's rich in calcium, phosphorus and vitamins, too.

Best of all, Carnation Cottage Cheese is so versatile—tastes so creamy-good so many different ways. Take this hot, nourishing vegetable-cheese casserole for example. Carnation Cottage Cheese makes it as economical as it is easy to make:

Quick and Easy Casserole
(Makes 4-6 servings)

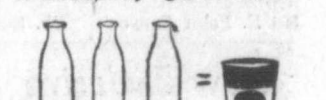

- 2 cups canned cut green beans
- 1 cup canned whole kernel corn
- 1/4 cup chopped celery
- 2 tablespoons chopped onion
- 2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
- 1 1/2 cups CARNATION COTTAGE CHEESE
- 1 egg
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- Marjoram to taste
- 1/4 cup flour

Don't throw away fruit and vegetable scraps. Making them grow indoors is a wonderful winter project for the youngsters. Grapefruit seeds, onions, carrot tops, pineapple crowns, avocado pits, and, of course, sweet potatoes produce a wonderful variety of leafy plants, shoots and vines. Usually they require so little care that the children can tend to them. Results are quick and rewarding, too. Growth starts anywhere from ten days to three weeks. It's a wonderful way to develop tiny "green thumbs."
